

WETS FAIL TO REVOKE MATHESON BILL

SUPERVISORS HIT SNAG ON HIGHWAY PROGRAM FOR '21

FEAR STATE AND FEDERAL AID IS NOT AVAILABLE THIS YEAR.

ALL MONEY SPENT

Past Appropriations Used on Other Roads—Board in All Day Discussion.

BULLETIN. Any motion to discount the county road bonds to continue highway construction by the state on the discounting of the road bonds to continue the Edgerton road this summer. Those supervisors learned they have reached the end of the rope on federal aid and there is some doubt if funds can be obtained from the state this year for concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

Meets Called Upon

Mid-morning, we put up that road bond issue before the people under the assumption the county was to pay one-third, the state one-third, and the national government the other third," said Supervisor Perino. "I want to know how much is available from the state and federal governments before we proceed on the bond vote."

The first allotment of federal aid was made on the Beloit-Janesville road," declared Highway Commissioner Charles E. Moore. "We have spent all past appropriations. Now federal aid is now before congress. If congress does not pass, there will be no appropriation then the court will not receive any federal aid. There is no state aid to the concrete roads. The state money is to be used for gravel roads off the trunk line system," explained Commissioner Moore.

County Must Pay:

"Then we can't build or plan on federal aid until another appropriation is passed and allotted out to the state," asked Chairman W. D. McGowan.

"This year's construction will have to be paid by the county and then state funds used at a later date to pay to state of the expenses," said Moore. "We cannot continue the Edgerton road, complete it and then use any federal aid obtained later to apply on the cost of a road already finished. You can liquidate past road debts with state money but not with federal money."

"We are sure of money from the government sometime," said Supervisor N. R. Richardson, Janesville. "It may not be in time for the Edgerton road, but it will go into Rock county. That is the chief concern of the county."

Doubt Federal Aid

Supervisors declared that the county has nothing to say about where the federal aid money should be used. The state money is to be used following the directions of the legislature.

(Continued on page 5)

CONDENSED NEWS

Stronghurst, Ill.—Henderson county, the first to plow a car lot for corn production, loaded three cars with donations from the farmers.

Indiana—Coal operators indicted for violating Sherman anti-trust law through conspiracy with miners and retailers to increase soft coal prices, surrendered to the U.S. Marshal.

Chicago—Sanction from 16 railroad brotherhoods and unions for a strike of employees of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway was given by union representatives meeting here.

Chicago—A net profit of $40,073.41 last, after deducting income taxes, was earned by the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana, the stockholders were told at the annual meeting in Whiting, Ind.

Williamson, W. Va.—Threats to shoot up Matewan and kill Mayor of Police, Sid Ratfield and Mayor C. C. Testerman were made by Albert C. Reits, prior to the Krebs shooting May 10, according to testimony in the trial.

Sells Sedan

WILLYS SIX SEDAN Recently completely overhauled. Body, upholstery, engine in exceptional condition. Must sacrifice soon for cash $500. Insured for more today. Dr. W. L. Johnson, inquire both phones or Park Street Garage. This ad was offered for three times. Monday Wednesday and Friday, but was canceled Wednesday morning.

Dr. Johnson said: "I sold my car Tuesday morning through the classified ad in the Gazette."

Do you want to sell your car? Try a classified ad tomorrow and get the same results.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Stand is prepared.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Wilson Is to Practice Law With Colby

Washington—President Wilson formally announced that he would resume the practice of law in a partnership with Bainbridge Colby, the retiring secretary of state. The White House will maintain offices in New York.

Gets About With 'Cane.

How actively the retiring president might take part in the firm's practice, within the limitations of his present physical condition is open to wide speculation. When he said goodbye to his cabinet members earlier in the day, he was obliged to use his cane to get about from the White House to the executive offices and when the newspaper men attached to the White House asked for a farewell audience, the president declined on the ground that his voice was too weak.

The president's friends generally supposed Mr. Wilson's connection with the new firm would be very largely that of association. Whether Mr. Wilson intended to appear in the White House to practice before the supreme court of the country about 3 o'clock this afternoon, no vote had been taken up to that time.

Rock county's concrete highway program bumped into snags Thursday during the special meeting of the county board, called for a vote on the discounting of the road bonds to continue the Edgerton road this summer. Those supervisors learned they have reached the end of the rope on federal aid and there is some doubt if funds can be obtained from the state this year for concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

During the three hours of discussion it became apparent that if Rock county continued in its road building this year, it would be practically at the expense of the county alone. There is a good chance the county will recover one-third of road costs from the state, but the consensus of opinion in the room won't be any federal aid.

Consider Road Policies

The various phases of road building, the policy of the state and the national government in granting aid in trunk line work, the financial condition of the state and federal government and the prospects of road budgets being appropriated were considered during the morning session.

The matter was brought before the board on the resolution of W. S. Perino, Beloit, who moved that the vote on the road bond matter be postponed until two o'clock. Bonds were not mentioned during the morning, the board centering its attention on an attempt to unravel the financial problems of the concrete roads.

FAMILY OF NEW NAVY HEAD

Mrs. Edwin Denby, Edwin Jr., eight, and Marion.

Edwin Denby, slated to become secretary of the navy in the Harding cabinet, will take a charming family to Washington. That family consists

LANDIS IS SILENT ON IMPEACHMENT

Federal Judge Says He Will Resign If Congress So Decrees.

Chicago—Judge H. M. Landis refused Thursday to break silence concerning impeachment proceedings threatened against him in the national house of representatives.

"I have asked the committee to send me a copy of the charges, evidence, arguments and report," he said. "Until I have this information," he said, "I shall know what the committee was told. I shall have nothing whatever to say."

The jurist indicated that his attitude on the ultimate outcome of the controversy over his acceptance of the post of national baseball commissioner had not changed since his declaration on the subject at St. Louis last December.

Should this maneuver be carried out, the Panama forces which recently captured Costa Rica's capital, San Jose, will be compelled to leave the United States because of being cut off from their base of supplies. Chief significance of such a move on the part of Costa Rica would appear to center around the fact that it would involve the United States, since the shore east of Duria Point was given to Panama under the arbitration ruling of Chief Justice White, which was handed down in 1914. It is well understood that the United States department of state has been instrumental in the interpretation of the treaty obligating the United States to protect the territorial integrity of Panama.

Travelers arriving here from Costa Rica reported anti-American demonstrations in San Jose, Puerto Limon, Cartago and Heredia on February 27 and 28. A strict censorship has been established here, and little is known of the movement of Panamanian forces.

If either house of congress should pass a resolution calling on his resignation, would he go to Washington?

"If either house of congress should pass a resolution calling on his resignation, would he go to Washington?"

Rothschild Found Dead on Floor of Kitchen, Stove Burners Open.

Omaha—Emil Rothschild, former millionaire grain dealer and president of the Rothschild Grain company, was found dead from asphyxiation on the kitchen floor of his home here early Thursday. Gas was pouring from the burners of a stove.

VOLSTEAD PROTESTS DELAY IN LANDIS CASE

Washington—Disenting from the action of the house judiciary committee in postponing action on impeachment charges against Federal Judge Landis, Chairman Volstead, of the minority, now voted to discredit the committee.

Mr. Volstead expressed the belief that not one member of the committee would vote for impeachment of James J. Davis, of Pittsburgh, secretary of labor, and of George E. Christian, Jr., to be secretary to the president.

"I have asked the committee to send me a copy of the charges, evidence, arguments and report," he said. "Until I have this information," he said, "I shall have nothing whatever to say."

The jurist indicated that his attitude on the ultimate outcome of the controversy over his acceptance of the post of national baseball commissioner had not changed since his declaration on the subject at St. Louis last December.

Should this maneuver be carried out, the Panama forces which recently captured Costa Rica's capital, San Jose, will be compelled to leave the United States because of being cut off from their base of supplies. Chief significance of such a move on the part of Costa Rica would appear to center around the fact that it would involve the United States, since the shore east of Duria Point was given to Panama under the arbitration ruling of Chief Justice White, which was handed down in 1914. It is well understood that the United States department of state has been instrumental in the interpretation of the treaty obligating the United States to protect the territorial integrity of Panama.

Travelers arriving here from Costa Rica reported anti-American demonstrations in San Jose, Puerto Limon, Cartago and Heredia on February 27 and 28. A strict censorship has been established here, and little is known of the movement of Panamanian forces.

If either house of congress should pass a resolution calling on his resignation, would he go to Washington?

"If either house of congress should pass a resolution calling on his resignation, would he go to Washington?"

Rothschild, found dead on the kitchen floor of his home here early Thursday morning, was a close association with men who toll physically would make him a better pastor.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Stand is prepared.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Stand is prepared.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Stand is prepared.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr. Harding will take his oath of office and deliver his inaugural address.

Stand is prepared.

Finishing touches were given to the stand on the east portion of the capitol, where Mr

WILSON WINDS UP FINAL BUSINESS

President Insists on Clearing Up All Records of His Administration.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington.—President Wilson has shown in these last days of his administration a desire to cooperate with the new president and his entire family, and he has moreover, insisted that everything be cleared in the way of records and official business in the various departments.

Mr. Wilson's latest act was to suggest that congress be furnished with the copies of all correspondence in the treasury department relative to loans with foreign governments. A car load of documents accordingly went to the capitol Wednesday, but this ends a controversy over the exact nature of which may be pending to the outside world, and it is equally possible that people in Washington.

Many Be Enkrassling.

The treasury has declared from the start that so far as the United States government was concerned the documents contained nothing that need be concealed from the American people, but that the communications from the former government revealed facts about their fiscal standing which might or might not be embarrassing to them if made public on the relations between one foreign government and another. Secretary Houston was cautious enough to seek advice from the secretary of state, because the latter is more familiar with the viewpoint of foreign governments than is the head of the treasury department.

No Specie Problem.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

Writes to Harding.

Mr. Wilson has exchanged letters with Mr. Harding and they seem to be getting closer together. Mr. Wilson is anxious to do the courteous thing in every way on Friday and to present throughout the ceremonies, but it begins to be apparent that Mr. Wilson's physical condition may not permit it. Mr. Harding thoroughly understands the situation and will not consider a courtesy. Mr. Wilson cannot meet his friends in the office of the Wilson will be able to get to the Senate chamber, but it is doubtful whether he can stand the added walk from the Senate chamber to the capitol steps, a distance of only a hundred feet, but since it involves going downstairs, the fear is that Mr. Wilson will be unable to accomplish Mr. Harding from the seat of chamber to the main floor stand. Mr. Wilson would be compelled to roll along chaise but he refused to be transported that way, and his intimates say he is particularly sensitive about being subjected to public scrutiny because of his unfeeling condition.

Exclusion Necessary.

The Wilson administration draws to a close, it is gradually becoming known that much of the embarrassment delaying the inauguration which have sprung from Mr. Wilson's inability to see callers are largely the result of his ill health, and republicans who are coming to know the facts no longer suspect Mr. Wilson of avoidance of the customary ceremonies and courtesies due to a predecessor by his predecessor.

The president's desire to withdraw from the picture of iniquity and to leave the stage to Mr. Harding is well defined, moreover, that when several dements in the Senate asked whether they could pay their respects on Friday afternoon at Mr. Wilson's new home, he hesitated further he might be thought to be introducing a partisan or rival element in the day's activities. Remarking that he guessed he "would be here some Friday afternoon," he acceded to the suggestion, and as a consequence the Wilsons will receive those officials who want to pay their respects to the retiring chief executive.

Copyright, 1921, by the Janesville Daily Gazette.

Edgerton

Frank Russell, Correspondent.

MANY WILL HEAR BELOIT EXPLORER

Boy Andrews, leader of the Third Asiatic expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, will give his lecture entitled "The Land of Buddhist Monks" Friday evening in the First Congregational Church, Beloit. This lecture has been given before the National Geographic Society, Washington, and at Carnegie Hall, New York.

Mr. Andrews is soon to lead an expedition into the heart of Central Asia. The admission to the lecture will be free, but a collection will be received for the China famine relief fund.

Several from Janesville will attend.

VACUUM CLEANER SALES CAUGHT

Port Atkinson.—The number 13 was unlucky for Spencer Walworth, alias J. H. Sweet, salesman for the Milwaukee vacuum cleaner who has been making a house to house canvass here. It is believed that the business man who he evaded a scheme where he would get rich quick. He selected 13 names from the telephone directory and mailed his company 13 orders for cleaners to be sent to these people. He then wired for his advance commission of $25. When letters of acknowledgement came to the parties, thanking them for the supposed orders, the people were astounded and called the company to inquire, and neither seen the agent nor ordered the cleaners.

After an investigation, Walworth was seized and admitted his guilt and was held on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. His case will be tried in Madison.

PROPOSES UNION DEPOT IN BELOIT

Beloit—City Planner Myron H. West, engaged some months ago by Beloit, urges the building of two viaducts costing $100,000 each over grade crossings, the union of the tracks of the two railroads and the building of a union depot. Mr. West also suggests zoning the city and meritocratic conduct during the late war.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members of the Senate judiciary committee privately told members of the Wilson cabinet that there was really no special purpose to be served in forcing the documents out of the privacy of the treasury, but nevertheless those same senators voted with the others in a unanimous request that the information be sent to the senate. This has caused the administration, and was one of the chief discussions in the final cabinet meeting of Tuesday. President Wilson took the position that the action of the senate judiciary committee was clear and that if any disadvantage to the good relations of the United States resulted from the publication of the data, the responsibility would rest with those who make the information public, and that so far as the Wilson administration is concerned it should accede to the request of the senate as expressed in the resolution calling for the data.

Finish Up All Business

Outside of a discussion of the foreign loans to which there was nothing new to be added except to say the date to be submitted to the committee talked of routine financial matters at final meeting. The president made sure that every member of the cabinet secretary had conceded every piece of business which required executive sanction, and the meeting came to an end. Then it was that Secretary Colby made a brief speech in behalf of the cabinet and Mr. Wilson thanked the cabinet for their service to him and shook hands with each. Farewells of this kind always have an element of pathos, but it was a particularly sad departure of Woodrow Wilson from the cabinet, meeting seemed to carry with it more elements of sadness and defeat than is customary with the outgoing executive. This is because Mr. Wilson's health is far from good and because his decrepit physical condition is the direct result of his overwork in the service of the nation.

It is a fact that certain members

NEWS ABOUT FOLKS

CLUBS
SOCIETY
PERSONALS

Social Calendar

FRIDAY, MARCH 4.

Afternoon—Women's Missionary society, Baptist church—Mrs. G. E. Fatzinger, Church Aid, Presbyterian church—Mesdames Metalic and Magee, Circle No. 1, M. E. church—Mrs. John Faifer, Circle No. 6, M. E. church—Mrs. Vern Beals, Circle No. 8, M. E. church—Mrs. W. S. Phillips, T. W. C. A. committee—Library. Evening—T. P. S.—St. Peter's church. R. H. C.—Miss Ann Silverthorn. Chinese supper—Mrs. F. J. Turner. D. of L. minstrel show meeting—St. Patrick's school hall. Community exercises—Baptist church.

E.T. Meet at St. Mary's—An interesting talk on health of school children was given by Miss Alice Glenn Wednesday afternoon at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' organization of St. Mary's school held in the school hall. A box supper was held to hold a foci for the benefit of the school. The money raised will be used for the purchase of history books and supplementary readers for the school. All the officers, consisting of Mrs. A. J. Pettit, Mrs. C. Snyder and Mrs. Edward Connell, were present.

Sunday at M. E. Church—About 75 people sat down to supper Wednesday evening at the annual membership meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church. Mrs. G. L. Trevor was in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. E. C. Gardner of the dining room. After supper a social hour was enjoyed and a program given under the direction of Mrs. E. C. Ketcham. She also had an address on education. Mrs. George Jacobs gave a brief talk on new community work, taking in the thought of citizenship of new Americans. Mrs. A. Raymer gave a reading. Miss Dolle Strang and Frank Doane gave vocal solos.

Japanese Art Study—A discussion of attributes of the Japanese people was given by Mrs. M. E. Bennett, the art class of the library Wednesday afternoon, with the program in charge of Mrs. L. F. Bennett. Mrs. Archie Reed gave a talk on "Art and Architecture of Japan," illustrating her remarks with examples of pottery, prints and lacquer. Mr. Stephen Bolles outlined the different religions of the country. She gave an interesting talk on the educational system with that of Japan, LaFazio Hearn, and with Sir Edwin Arnold. The next meeting will take up details of the presidential inauguration and the appointments of the cabinet.

Party Held in Johnstown—A party was held Saturday evening at the Peter White home in Johnstown. Games were played, dinner served and at midnight a dance supper was served. The guests were the Misses Grace Caldo, Ruth Hanthorn, Amanda Minnie, Olga and Ella Schmidhauser, Alice Finnano, Elsie Hall, Margaret Conover, Genevieve and Lillian Kelly, Mae Whittier, Mrs. and Mrs. C. Kunzman, Ray Staller, William Gourley, Robert White, Carl Will, Edward Schmitz, James White, Fred Cowling, Roy Allard, Walter Schultz, George Schmalz, Fred Pratt and Arthur Schultz.

Junior Women Meet—Mrs. G. E. Fatzinger, 413 Ravine street, will entertain the Junior Women's Missionary society of the Baptist church Friday afternoon at her home.

Women Hold All Day Meet—An all day meeting of the Loyal Women's class, First Christian church, will be held Friday at the home of Mrs. Frank Sadler, 943 Walker street. A chicken dinner will be served at two o'clock.

Mrs. Dutcher Hostess—Mrs. Harry R. Dutcher, 1111 Olive street entertained a few friends Wednesday evening with a dinner party. Bridge was played after the dinner.

Presbyterian Women Gather—Mrs. George Metalic and Mrs. A. Magee will entertain the Church Aid of the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Magee, 304 Madison street.

Marty's Entertain—Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller, 141 South Wisconsin street, invited the members of an evening card club to be their guests Wednesday. Bridge was played and lunch was served.

Women Play at Madison—Mrs. John Fuller, Sweeney, Mrs. Stanley Tallman and Mrs. David Holmes, accompanied the Janesville Duplicate Bridge club members as substitutes.

WINCHESTER

Slicers That Stay Sharp

WINCHESTER Slicers are of the finest kind of cutlery steel. They are flexible, slender, and will stay sharp.

These Winchester Slicers will cut thin, appetizing slices of ham, sandwich bread and other foods that usually crumble and break when cut with a heavier butcher knife.

See our assortment of Winchester Cutlery today, specially displayed this week.

SHELDON HARDWARE CO.
40 S. Main St.

Both Phones No. 1

THE WINCHESTER STORE

"Aid Mercy Hospital Now."

PERSONALS

HASKIN ANSWERS SCORE OF QUERIES

Y. W. C. A. Committees Meet—A meeting of the provincial committee of the Y. W. C. A. will be held at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the library. Members of all Y. W. C. A. committees are asked to attend this meeting as business of importance is to be transacted.

Mrs. Beals' Guests—Mrs. Vern Beals, Michaelis apartments, will be entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. James M. Blouque, at the home of Mrs. S. M. Jacobs, 129 South Third street.

Touston Give Dinner—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Touston, 308 Jackson street, are giving a dinner party Thursday evening. Eighteen guests will be seated at one table. The evening will be filled with dancing.

Meeting of Afternoon Club—Mrs. George Herrington, South Main street, was hostess Tuesday afternoon to a bridge club. The prize was won by Mrs. Edward Stabler. This club meets twice a month.

Missionary Program Given—Women of St. Peter's church held their regular monthly missionary meeting Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. William H. Haskin was in charge of the program, the subject of which was "Evangelism in His Own Tongue." Thirty women attended. Mrs. Sundholm was taken into the society. Lunch was served by the hostesses, the Mesdames August Berger and Louis Brummond. The Lenten meeting of the society will be held from 3 to 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the church parlors. Pastor G. J. Muller will conduct the study.

Play at Footville—Two successful, well attended performances of the play, "Deacon Dubus," were given Monday and Tuesday evenings at the Hanover hall. The play is to be repeated Monday evening, March 7, at the Footville hall for the benefit of the women of the Methodist church of Footville. Several young people take part in the play which was given originally under the auspices of the Farm Bureau of Plymouth.

Given Luncheon for Guest—Mrs. Harry Smith, who is visiting at the George McKee home, 55 East street, gave a 1 o'clock luncheon Thursday complimentary to her guest, Mrs. Fredrick Morrison, Chicago.

Places were laid for eight and the afternoon devoted to bridge.

Joint Meeting Postponed—The joint meeting of the W. F. M. S., the Ladies Aid, and the W. H. M. S. has been postponed until Wednesday, March 9.

End Community Exercises—The last community exercises to be held this month at the Baptist church will be Friday evening when "Rots and Fangs" will be the feature; "Moving picture.

Indian Program Given by Club—An Indian program in charge of Mrs. William Sherer is being given Thursday afternoon by the MacDowell club which is meeting at the home of Mrs. D. W. Holmes, 430 East street.

Clerks have Supper—Eight women employees of the J. M. Bostwick and Sons store enjoyed a picnic supper and social Tuesday evening at Janesville Center.

Foresters Elect Officers—St. Patrick's court, No. 318, W. C. O. W. elected officers at the meeting Wednesday evening in Eagles' hall. Officers elected were: Dean James F. Ryan, chaplain; Dr. M. A. Cunningham, physician; Mary Cronin, chief ranger; Anna Lyons, vice chief ranger; Mary Raynor, recorder; secretary; Eddie McLean, financial secretary; Eddie McLean, treasurer; Wm. E. Gandy and Anna Dorothy and Mary Rardon, trustees; Catherine Connors and Jessie Hoyle, conductors; Elizabeth Birmingham and Margaret Conley, sentinels.

Rex Club Has Dance—Another successful dancing party was given Wednesday evening by the Rex club in the Hotel St. Paul. The dance and a few two steps were features of the party but a balloon dance was the specialty offered for the evening. The next party will be held in the confirmation class.

Give Farewell Party—Mrs. H. Fredendall and Mrs. F. Standel, 1314 Elizabeth street, entertained 10 friends Tuesday evening. Games, cards and contests made up the entertainment of the evening and a lunch was served. Those who attended were the Mesdames M. Kingman, M. Thivierge, M. Anderson, and the Misses Jennie Forney, Max Tiffany, Lillian Danielson, Clara Bensa, Madge Byrne, Katherine and Adell Schroeder, and Jessie Draahl.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredendall are moving this week onto the Albert Higgins farm, four miles west of Janesville.

Lucille Hudson Married—Word has been received in this city of the marriage of Miss Lucille Hudson, to William Glasser, Madison, the ceremony taking place in Chicago about two weeks ago. Mrs. Glasser was employed at the Music Shop in this city. Mr. Glasser is forester hostess—Mrs. Harry R. Dutcher, 1111 Olive street entertained a few friends Wednesday evening with a dinner party. Bridge was played after the dinner.

Presbyterian Women Gather—Mrs. George Metalic and Mrs. A. Magee will entertain the Church Aid of the Presbyterian church Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Magee, 304 Madison street.

Marty's Entertain—Mr. and Mrs. John Fuller, 141 South Wisconsin street, invited the members of an evening card club to be their guests Wednesday. Bridge was played and lunch was served.

Women Play at Madison—Mrs. John Fuller, Sweeney, Mrs. Stanley Tallman and Mrs. David Holmes, accompanied the Janesville Duplicate Bridge club members as substitutes.

WINCHESTER Slicers are of the finest kind of cutlery steel. They are flexible, slender, and will stay sharp.

These Winchester Slicers will cut thin, appetizing slices of ham, sandwich bread and other foods that usually crumble and break when cut with a heavier butcher knife.

See our assortment of Winchester Cutlery today, specially displayed this week.

SHELDON HARDWARE CO.
40 S. Main St.

Both Phones No. 1

THE WINCHESTER STORE

"Aid Mercy Hospital Now."

HASKIN ANSWERS SCORE OF QUERIES

Questions concerning trademarks, patents, poetic fallacies, government correspondence schools, insurance companies, tombstones for soldiers killed in action, the names of ships sunk during the war, Lincoln's piano, and Will Carleton's poems were a few of those asked from Frederic Haskin of the Gazette Information bureau at Washington. His report for the week ending last Thursday shows besides 24 questions unanswered, 11 booklets and calendars were sent out to readers of the Gazette and 12 million dollars in advertising millions of dollars but little tournament.

Edgar Garry moved from Jackson street to a farm near Oregon Wednesday. F. O. McKinney moved into the Garry house McKenney recently purchased.

Miss Olive Robinson returned Wednesday after spending a few days with friends in Appleton.

Seed corn, seed potatoes, timothy and clover, and other seeds wanted by your neighbors and other people who are readers of the Gazette. Turn your seeds into money through the Classified columns. Telephone if you have not time to write.

Club to Give Play.

At the meeting of the Afternoon club at 2:30 Friday afternoon in Linton hall several women will present to the club and the friends, Zona Gale's play, "The Neighbor." The characters will be taken from the "Meditation in Van Dyken," Asa Snow, Lillian Porter, Mary Carson and the Misses Dorothy Richmond, Elizabeth Gillies and Mary Branham.

Persons.

Mrs. Harry Cary and daughter, and Miss Rose Cary, Argyle, came Wednesday for a visit at the F. W. Wilder home. Miss Cary returned Thursday and Mrs. Cary and daughter will stay for the weekend.

The Good Times club will meet Friday night at Dr. and Mrs. George Sproul's residence.

J. C. Glasser's division of the service commission will have a food, apron and rug sale March 19 in J. W. Clark's store.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

Other Church Notes.

The first of the musical services which the Presbyterian church will hold will be at 7:30 p.m. for church funds Sunday, March 13. It was decided at a meeting of men of the congregation last Sunday, S. M. Smith, Milwaukee, formerly of Janesville, spoke appreciatively of church life and the report of the treasurer showed the finances in good condition.

VICTIMS OF BLAST EXPECTED TO LIVE

Brakeeman Most Seriously Hurt
Lung Punctured and Ribs Broken.

Examination of G. Dimpler, brakeman, buried through the air in the boiler explosion of a freight locomotive on the Chicago & Northwestern at Sharon Wednesday, showed his lung was pierced and two ribs broken. It was stated at the Cottage hospital, Harvard, Ill., where he is confined, that he will recover. Dimpler was visited Wednesday by his mother and brother, who came from Chicago.

J. W. MacSwain, engineer, and Edward Marshall, fireman, who were scalded, are resting easily at Mercy hospital. They will be confined for several more days.

SHORT CHANGE GAME IS WORKED PERFECTLY

The old army short change deal was worked successfully at the D. & L. Sweet Shop, Wednesday night, by a man about 30. He stepped in to lay down five dollars in change asking for a five dollar bill. The obliging boy laid down the bill and she did so conveniently, changing his mind, and asked for a ten dollar bill instead. In exchange for the latter bill he pushed across the counter the five dollars in change and the five dollar bill she had just given him.

It was not until after he had left the store that she discovered her mistake. Police searched the downtown district without finding him.

SADDLE THIEF MAY HAVE BAD RECORD

William R. Stanton, alleged saddle thief, arrested here Wednesday was taken back to Monticello Wednesday night by a deputy sheriff. He is also alleged to have stolen $70 from a farm near Monticello. He had $10 in him when arrested.

In jail at Monticello Thursday on charge of stealing from Nick Friday, Stanton said his mother lives in Detroit. Her name is Mrs. M. Arndt and it is said she has written to him under four different names. He had served for Otto C. Lubke, routes 4, Whitewater and also in Jefferson. Sheriff Mitchell is looking up his past record.

FIREMEN HAVE FOUR CALLS IN 15 HOURS

Four calls in 15 hours kept the fire department on the jump until noon Thursday. Two were chimney blazes, and the other two, rubbish fires, all without loss of life.

Wednesday—8:10 p.m.—William Harkness, 4123 Eastern avenue, chimney, 9:35, rubbish fire in alley back of Bolberg store; 9:55, R. L. Scarsby, 602 Court, chimney.

Thursday—11 a.m., rubbish fire near Port Gove flats, South Jackson.

FACTORY WANTS JANESVILLE DATA

Request for data on the possibility of Janesville as a site for a factory has been received by the Chamber of Commerce from the Bowen Motor Railway corporation, St. Louis, manufacturers of a gasoline propelled railway passenger car. They declare the experimental stage is over and they are ready to commence manufacture. "The car is suitable, they claim, for interurban lines and for street car service. It is large enough to support close to 100 passengers. They may be operated at 45 cents a mile."

The matter is in the hands of the industrial bureau of the chamber.

DOCTORS CONTROL MOLDING SAND CO.

Interests of Judge H. L. MacLeod and his brother, Alvin MacLeod, in the Janesville Molded Sand company have been sold to the two other stockholders in the corporation, Drs. Pendleton and Nuzum. They plan extensive development of the tract, which is in the town of Janesville, north of the cementries, on the Evansville road.

The sand has been shipped in years past to foundries in a score of midwest cities. The MacLeods represent the old homestead.

TWO MORE SITES UP FOR HOSPITAL

Two additional sites have been offered the Chamber of Commerce committee on seeking to procure one of the government hospitals for wounded soldiers. They are three acres, half mile from the center of the city on Clark street, offered by W. C. Graves. There is a modern room house and kitchen on the property, fully finished. The other is 40 acres at $100 an acre on the Janesville-Beloit road, 14 miles from the city limits, offered by Fred O. Lehing.

NEW AMBULANCE IS PUT INTO SERVICE

Lynn Whelby's new $3,000 ambulance made its initial trip Thursday morning taking Mrs. Richard Lee from Mercy Hospital to her home on corner of Dodge and Academy streets.

A second call was to be made in the afternoon.

TRAVELING MEN TO GATHER SATURDAY

Janesville traveling men will hold their annual meeting at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, according to announcement of Chas. E. Hanson, secretary of Janesville council No. 103, U. G. T. There will be initiation. A stag supper will be served at 6 p.m.

KIWANIS MEMBERS HEAR SCHOOL TALK

Roger G. Cunningham, city attorney, spoke at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Grand Hotel Thursday noon on backing the school board and the teachers, battering the educational facilities of Janesville. Dr. Frank Showard, Lake Villa, Ill., state board of health, spoke. Mrs. Allen Dearborn sang several selections. Sidney Postwick was in charge of the program.

SHARON

Sharon.—Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Larson and son, John, spent Tuesday with relatives at Williams Bay—Alton Cline being work March 1, driving the Bradley bus between here and Dalevan, having taken the place of D. Lovell—The Standard Bearers held meeting and pie social at the M. E. church on Monday evening. A large crowd was present. Dr. and Mrs. M. V. Devine left Wednesday for a two day stay with friends in Chicago—Rev. and Mrs. L. Woods returned Tuesday from a brief visit with relatives at LaMoille, Ill.—Mrs. Mary Shager and daughter, Mrs. John Chinappi returned to their home in Rockford Tuesday evening, having been called here to attend the funeral of Miss Rose Dulake—Wallace Salisbury spent Tuesday in Chicago—Miss Nellie King returned to Elgin Tuesday having been called here by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Fred Windick—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society met on Wednesday with Mrs. A. D. Lowell.

Samson to Give Benefit Show

KEEPS APPLES FOR FOURTEEN MONTHS

What is perhaps a record in keeping apples in this city is claimed by Mrs. Bert Holloman, 629 Cornelia street. She received a box of Jonathan apples at a present a year ago last Christmas. They were purchased from a local dealer. When she opened the box Wednesday night under the "Hoof Line," where officers and crew are entertaining King Foo and the royal family, the king's women dancers make a feature of the act.

Other attractions will be a statuary act, "A Study in Black and White"; "Eagles Time Wedding"; "A Great Bouquet"; a pretty singing and dancing act; "Barnham and Balled Hay Circus, depicting the front door of a side show; and the "Death of Salomon," a classic chorus dancing number which closes with a burlesque on the Salome dance and the dance of the seven veils.

Chairmen of various committees are: C. S. Gardner, general chairman; C. S. Breckinridge, publicity; Frank Birmingham, talent; Roy Cummings, finance and tickets; George Perrings, program.

OBITUARY

Phyllis Lydia Griep.

Funeral services for Phyllis Lydia Griep, 16 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Griep, 1218 Court street, who died Monday were held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

They signified an intention of pleading guilty to attempted burglary.

Both are under 20.

AT MADISON HEARING

J. A. Craig and A. M. Murchison were in Madison Thursday attending several legislative hearings before committees.

WILL MARRY

Application for marriage license was made Thursday at the court house by Herman F. Seliow, Spring Valley and Miss Lizzie Mattoe Cook.

Rev. Mr. Johnson, Seven Day Adventist church, Milton Junction, officiated and the choir sang. Many friends and relatives from Milton Junction attended. Interment was in the Milton Junction cemetery.

Joseph Cunningham.

Joseph Cunningham, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cunningham, ham town of Harmony, died at 11:30 a.m. yesterday.

THREE STOLEN

A tire was stolen from Dr. John's car, parked on Milwaukee's hill, it was reported to police.

CLOSED NOONS

The city treasurer's office closes during the noon hour now after having been kept open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during tax collection.

HOLID OPEN

Henry Loerke's assault and battery action listed for hearing here Thursday was continued as was the case of Cooper vs. Missner.

LODGE NEWS

Rock River encampment No. 3, Odd Fellows, will meet in regular session Friday evening in East Side hall. The patriarchal degree will be conferred. Guests will give an exhibition drill in full uniform. Refreshments will be served.

WILLOWDALE

Walworth—Mrs. August Schudt and daughter, Esther, are visiting the former's parents in Sharon—George Morwin, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Morwin, is ill with scarlet fever—Arthur Zimmerman and family expect to move to Kansas about March 15, when they will return from a vacation—A special surprise was given Saturday night to Mr. and Mrs. Julius Simonsen, the occasion being their thirtieth wedding anniversary—The John Blaine family, who moved to Harvard last summer, are having a siege of mumps, and Curtis is quite ill—Mrs. E. L. Hoyt, Harvard, visited at the William Miller home Saturday—Will Bowyer has rented the house formerly owned by Mr. Broops, and soon will move in—Mr. and Mrs. Wren and daughter, Ethel, were on their way from Durbin, where they had been to consult Dr. Root about Ethel's health—T. W. Crowe spent the week-end in Milwaukee—Miss Joyce Mellor is ill.

DRIFTING AWAY

—The state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

"Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.

Then right now we cannot truthfully say the state and national government will pay two-thirds of the costs of the Edgerton road or any other road in the state which is not in good condition.</

The Big Town Round Up

By WILLIAM MACLEOD RAINIE
Copyright 1920 by William MacLeod Rainie. All rights reserved.
Printed by the Janesville Daily Gazette by permission of and special arrangements with Houghton, Mifflin Co., Boston.

Continued from yesterday.
"So I did," admitted Clay, and to save his life he could not keep from smiling.

The porter sputtered. This beat anything in his previous experience. "But—but it ain't allowed to open up the cab. Was you-all havin' trouble?"

"No trouble at all. He bet me a cigar I couldn't put him in." Clay paid him a dollar and handed it to the porter as he passed into the car. The eyes of that outraged official met his. The book of rules did not say anything about wrestling-matches in the vestibule. Besides, it happened that Durand had called him down sharply not an hour before. He decided to brush off his passengers and forget what he had seen.

Clay stopped in front of Kitty's. She told him she would have no trouble, taking her transfer in the city. The girl was cool. She had sensed the antagonism that had flared up between them in that moment when they had faced each other five minutes before.

"Where's Mr. Durand?" she asked.

"He got off."

"But the train hasn't stopped."

"It's just crawlin' along, and he was in a hurry."

Kitty's face rested upon an angry bruise on his cheek. It had not been there when last she saw him. She started to speak, then changed her mind.

Clay seated himself beside her. "Chicago is a right bit town to reckon. If I can help it, am I?"

"Kitty, I'd be glad to do what I can."

"The girl didn't answer. She was trying to work out this puzzle of why a man should get off before the train reached the station.

"I'm a stranger myself, but I expect I can work along somehow," he went on cheerfully.

"Mr. Durand didn't say anything to me about getting off," she persisted.

"He made up his mind in a hurry. Just took a sudden notion to go."

"Without saying anything about his suitcase?"

"Never mentioned 'em."

"You didn't have—say trouble with him?" she faltered.

"Not a bit," he told her gently.

"Sorry our tickets take us by different roads to New York. Maybe we'll meet up with each other there, Miss Kitty."

"I don't understand it," she murmured, half to herself. "Why would we get off before we reached the destination?"

She was full of suspicions, and the bruise on the Worcester's cheek did not tend to allay them. They were still unsatisfied when the porter took her to the end of the car to brush her clothes.

The discussion of that young man had its result. While he brushed the girl he told her rapidly what he had seen in the vestibule.

"Was he hurt?" she asked breathlessly.

"No'm. I looked out and seen him standin' beside the track jes' a cussin' a blue streak. He's a sh—ough bad actor, that Jerry Durand."

Kitty marched straight to her secretary. The eyes of the girl flashed anger.

"Please leave my seat, sir," she told Clay.

The Arizona rose at once. He knew that she knew. "I was intendin' to help you out with your gripes," he said.

She flamed into passionate resentment of his interference. "I'll attend to them. I can look out for myself, sir."

With that she turned her back on him.

CHAPTER III
The Big Town.

When Clay stepped from the express into the Pennsylvania Station he wondered for a moment if he was in a circus or a frontier wild show town. The shouts of the porters, the rush of many women toward the exits, the whirl and odds of a vast crowd all about him, took him to the few hours he had spent in Chicago.

As he emerged at the Thirty-fourth Street entrance, New York burst upon him with what seemed almost a threat. He could hear the roar of it like a river rushing down the hill. He had lived rough all his life, but he had ridden out a cattle stampede. He had ridden out a blizzard hunched up with the drifts behind. He had lived rough all his life, but he had no destination, and was in no hurry. All day was before him, all of many days. He drifted down the street and across to Sixth Avenue. He clung to the safety of one of the L-boats as the traffic surged past. The clang of surface cars and the throb of motors filled the air constantly. He wondered at the daring of the pink-cheeked slip of a girl driving an automobile with sure touch through this tangle of traffic. While he waited to plunge across the street there came a roar overhead that reminded him again of a wall of water he had once heard tearing down a canon in his home land.

To be continued.

A Sweetheart at Thirty

The Story of a Woman's Transformation
BY MARION RUBINCAM

CHAPTER XXXV.
A LOVE STORY

One afternoon, a day or so after all these things happened, Francis Meade came for me in his car.

"I thought we might run out into the country somewhere, and get back for a late dinner," he suggested.

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone, and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

"But I don't see why you should love me," I said finally. "You are so good, looking—and nice—and well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone,

and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

"But I don't see why you should love me," I said finally. "You are so good, looking—and nice—and well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone,

and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

"But I don't see why you should love me," I said finally. "You are so good, looking—and nice—and well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone,

and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

"But I don't see why you should love me," I said finally. "You are so good, looking—and nice—and well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone,

and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

"But I don't see why you should love me," I said finally. "You are so good, looking—and nice—and well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone,

and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

"But I don't see why you should love me," I said finally. "You are so good, looking—and nice—and well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

"Only what?"

"You see, I'd leave Violet alone,

and she's feeling so much un-

"Of course! But nothing can be done for a day or two. The police are carrying on an investigation, and George is bound to appear when they want him. Meanwhile, I'm keeping him on my payroll, and I told him that this time I'd go to the office until this thing blows over."

"You're so good!" I burst out suddenly. "You know, I've done so much for you—I'm not young, for instance."

"Never mind," he broke in. "What ever age you are you are the sweetest for it. Perhaps youth is desirable, but youth is—sometimes shallow."

You have a depth and a maturity—and Endi dear, you don't look like well. I should think lots of women would fall in love with you."

He laughed at that, and I smiled in answer to his laugh. Then I wanted on.

"There are so many women that are young and pretty and charming,

and the mouth that now was so tender.

He was even handsomer than usual,

in his green-grey-lined overcoat with the same collar that rolled high around his neck.

Classified Advertising

CLASSIFIED RATES

2 cents per word per insertion
(six words to a line)

NO AD TAKEN LESS THAN $3.00 OR

LESS THAN 2 LINES

DISPLAY CLASSES 12 lines to the inch

CONTRACT RATES furnished on application at the Gazette office and receive prompt attention.

Ads may be left at Pader Drug Co.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

Errors in print ads will be corrected at no extra insertion given when notification is made after the first insertion.

Closing Hours—All want ads must be received before 10:00 A.M. for insertion the same day. Local readers are asked to call 12 o'clock.

Telephones—When ordering an ad over the telephone, always ask that it be repeated back to you by the taker to make sure it has been taken correctly. Telephone 77. Want Ads accepted.

Kept Ads—Kept ads can be answered by letter. Answers to keyed ads will be held 10 days from date of the first insertion of the ad.

Classification—The Gazette reserves the right to accept all ads according to its own rules governing classifications.

TELEPHONE FOUR, WANT ADS when it is more convenient to do so. The bill will be added to your bill as the telephone accommodation service. The Gazette expects payment promptly on receipt of bill.

Persons whose names do not appear in either the City Directory or Telephone directory must send cash with their advertisements.

BOTH PHONES 77.

Want Ad Branches

Pader Drug Store, W. O. Samuel's, 928 McKey Blvd., Jingold St. Grocery, J. F. P. on Second Ave., Charles' Grocery, 1310 Highland Ave., Charles' Grocery, Madison & Academy Sts.

WANT AD REPLIES

At 10:30 o'clock, there were replies to the following boxes:

Sat. 229, "A," 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935.

SPECIAL NOTICES

ALWAYS When you think of ? ? ? ? think of C. F. Beers

BIG DEMONSTRATION

Saturday, March 5th, showing the exclusive features of the

GAIN-A-DAY WASHER WRINGER

Come in and let our demonstrator show you the essentials of one.

EASIER WORK DAY

N. S. RIVER ST. BROWN BROS. ELECTRIC SHOP

Bell phone 418. R. C. phone 524 Red.

LAST CHANCE—7 cords of dry oak cord wood. Blocked up, $12 per cord while it lasts. Spaulding, R. C. 138 Red.

RAZORS HONED—See Pader Bros. SCREENED sand and gravel delivered to any part of the city. Call phone 1124 or 2124.

SAMSON PNEUMATICS, you can have them at the Shoe Hospital, 1609 McKinley Boulevard, on your way to work and they will be repaired and ready for you when you go home at night. Telers right.

FEMALE HELP WANTED

ASSISTANT BOOKKEEPER and stenographer. Apply in own hand writing. Five days per week, salary $125.00. Expired 27. Gazette.

FEMALE WANTS young or middle aged lady for housekeeper, near town. Give references and salary expected in first letter. Write 1931.

WANTED—Experienced girl for general housework. Call B. G. 1339 Red.

WANTED—Girl of woman for general housework. One that will stay nights. Bell 2638.

WANTED—Girl to assist with housework. Mrs. Albert Schaffer, 1815 Mutual Point Ave., R. C. phone 1665 White.

WANTED—A competent cook. $21 Court St. Mrs. J. M. Postwick.

WANTED—A number of five young women who are willing to devote a small portion of the time to learning the trade of Commis of Silver. No particular address. Box 1951, care of the Gazette.

MALE HELP WANTED

GOVERNMENT needs Railway Mail Clerks. $100 per month, with free room and board. Columbus, Ohio.

MEN, LEARN BARBER TRADE

It's practical and profitable. Big demand. Short term. Shop available for help. Write M. O. LEARN COL-LEGE, 613 E. Water, Milwaukee.

WANTED

Bookkeeper and manager, to take charge of office and credit department. Must have best of references and experience. Splendid opportunity. Apply Golden Eagle.

WANTED—A. J. Sutcher, J. F. Schow's Merc Mart.

An experienced saleswoman competent to take charge of laces, embroideries, dress trimmings, etc. We also have opportunities for bright ambitious business women as assistants in three or four other departments. Will give every possible help toward a successful business career.

Write us regarding your ability in any special line. All correspondence will be held confidential if desired. The Henderson-Hoyt Company, Oshkosh, Wis.

SITUATIONS WANTED

POSITION WANTED in doctor's or dentist's office. Experienced.

Address 1922, Gazette.

WANTED—Place driving truck by married man. Also had experience in clerical work. Call Bell 1911 or Bell 2319.

ROOMS FOR RENT

FOR RENT—Single room with one or two beds, or two room suite. $15.00 per month.

FOR RENT—Strictly modern room.

FOR RENT—Neat modern bedroom for one or two. Bell 1995.

FURNISHED ROOMS FOR RENT. Men preferred. 418 N. Chatham St.

FURNISHED SLEEPING ROOM for rent. Call 373 Bell after 5 o'clock.

WANTED—A lady roomer, one that can play a piano preferred. Address 1924, care Gazette.

ROOMS AND BOARD

WANTED—Board and room for two. Room must be on first floor, large, modern and with bath. Address 1924, care Gazette.

LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS

FOR RENT—Furnished light housekeeping room. Private entrance. 401 Pine St. Price, $15.00. Black.

FOR RENT—Furnished rooms for light housekeeping. Private entrance. 724 Gen St.

FOR RENT—Steam heated newly furnished light housekeeping apartment. Bell 1995.

THREE furnished light housekeeping rooms for rent. Modern with bath. R. C. 121 evenings.

LIVESTOCK AND VEHICLES

CATALOG OF HORSES for sale or exchange. At Pader Barn, corner of N. Main & Elm.

FOR SALE—Workhorse C. H. Howard. Both phones.

FOR SALE

LAKOTA BACHELORS AGAIN VICTORIOUS IN RED-HOT FIGHT

Wedding Bells sounded off with a funeral dirge at the Lakota club when the married men suffered their second defeat from the singles in a sensational game of the old J. H. S. stars, played in the high school gymnasium Wednesday evening.

After leading and looking good to win, the married men rallied at the last quarter and were beaten by the score of 42 to 29. The question is apparently settled among the Lakota members. The only hope for the married men apparently is for more of the singles to slip their neck into the matrimonial noose and change team colors.

Lucks Baskets Win.

Between Hemming and Cushing, the singles ended with much luck in shooting, but the married men had the better opportunities to win from the foul line. The game was rough in spots with bits of "roughing" as the game became close and the lead changing sides. There was some lively scrummage work when the losers sought to curb Bill Kobler and his dribble. There were plenty of spills.

Clausie Gathering.

Lanigan and Field, playing the game with the stars for the losers, Field had hard luck in attempting to ring his long shots. Lanigan was able to stop his opponent scoring until the last quarter when, too exhausted to follow the speed of younger players.

There were 600 present, the attendance netting the Lakotas a sum which is to be devoted to charitable work.

During the half intermission, Miss Goldberg and his bride and Bob Bailey sang several clever jazz tunes. Mrs. Goldberg was given the "royal hand" when she was introduced.

With the basketball question settled, the rival factions of the club are turning their attention to the coming games in the regular tournament or a homecoming meet. The single men promise to wipe the slate clean during those events.

Bowling Scores

CHIN LEAGUE		EAST LEAGUE
WEST SIDE NO. 1		WEST SIDE NO. 2
Hilgers	190	157	189
Cunningham	167	148	184
Ryan	200	167	162
Patton	163	150	160
Cornell	154	157	178
Totals	584	524	594
High team score, single game, West Side No. 1, 224.
High team score, total three games.
High individual score, Ryan, 214.
Second high individual score, Ryan, 212.
<hr/>
BAKE-RITES		EDGERTON
Hilgers	210	198	216
Mead	142	187	187
Nelson	177	191	204
Newman	159	182	188
Burke	159	181	174
Totals	828	940	965
Creamens	274	274	274
Hughes	157	181	167
A. Hobel	162	188	136
Nault	153	201	204
Merrick	163	191	187
Totals	783	824	852
High team score, single game, Bake-Rites, 957.
High team score, total three games.
High individual score, Hughes, 214.
Second high individual score, Paulus, 210.
<hr/>
WEST SIDE		SOMSON TRACTORS
Cook	192	192	211
Winehoff	184	169	174
MacKenzie	112	147	189
Laupert	166	188	180
Messick	140	186	175
Totals	504	592	566
<hr/>
BRANDENBURG PRINTERS		BAKES-ELITES
Schmidt	192	150	168
Pive	158	150	148
Baumann	164	188	158
Dickerson	165	165	176
Totals	852	860	854
High team score, single game, Somson, 567.
High team score, total three games.
High individual score, MacKenzie, 212.
Second high individual score, Cook, 211.
Lawrence Lunch-Janesville Machine Co. match postponed.
<hr/>
G. Scott Holds Cue Meet Lead		STANDINGS
STANDINGS	W.	L.	Pct.
G. Scott	5	1	1.000
Gokee	4	1	.500
Bourdon	4	2	.500
Caudlin	3	3	.666
W. Scott	2	3	.400
Brown	1	4	.250
Lewis	1	4	.250
<hr/>
Send it to the Dry Cleaner		DRY CLEANING
<hr/>
Dry Cleaning		PRESSING
<hr/>
Pressing		DYING
<hr/>
Dyeing		DRESS PLAITING
<hr/>
Rugs & Lace		CURTAINS CLEANED
<hr/>
Badger Dye Works		KERSAL & KARBERG
<hr/>
24 No. Franklin St.		Both Phones.
<hr/>
We Call and Deliver.		Aid Mercy Hospital Now!
<hr/>
"Aid Mercy Hospital Now."		"Aid Mercy Hospital Now."
<hr/>
New Spring Merchandise in Clothing, Shoes		and Furnishings Arriving Daily
<hr/>
BRINGING UP FATHER		OH! I'M GOING TO MOVE OUT IN THE COUNTRY I'M TIRED OF THIS CITY LIFE
<hr/>
OF ALL THE BUM PLACES I'VE BEEN IN THIS IS THE LIMIT! I HAVEN'T SEEN A PERSON PASS ALL DAY		HOW CAN YOU STAND IT HERE?
<hr/>
HOWDY STRANGER! LOOKIN' FOR SOME PERSON IN PARTICULAR?		IS THERE ANYBODY IN THIS TOWN?
<hr/>
THERE'S THE MAYOR-SHERIFF PERKINS THE MINISTER-MYSELF AND ZEB BEESWAX AND HIS DAUGHTER AND TWO GUESTS AT THE HOTEL		OH! I'M GOING TO MOVE OUT IN THE COUNTRY I'M TIRED OF THIS CITY LIFE
<hr/>
FEB. 21, 1921, BY INT'L FEATURE SERVICE, INC.		3-3
<hr/>			